

Media Release

January 2010

Terrace Restaurant goes on location at Goaty Hill vineyard

- What: Terrace Restaurant's Goaty Hill luncheon
- Where: Goaty Hill vineyard, 530 Auburn Rd, Kayena
- When: Sunday, 28 March
- Cost: $170 per person – includes canapés, five-course luncheon, Goaty Hill wines, glass of Jansz to start, water and soft drinks.
- Transport: Return coach transfer from Country Club Tasmania to Goaty Hill is included in ticket price.

Country Club Tasmania is excited to announce the advent of a unique Tasmanian food and wine experience when Terrace Restaurant goes on location at Goaty Hill vineyard.

In a first for the state, guests will enjoy a five-course luncheon specially prepared by the Terrace chefs and set within Goaty Hill's lush vineyard overlooking the scenic Tamar Valley.

Seating for 100 guests will be provided underneath an open marquee located between the vines – the perfect spot to savour the fresh produce, award-winning wines and natural beauty for which Tasmania is renowned.

Goaty Hill owners Natasha, Tony, Markus and Kristine will share the vineyard's history and discuss the story behind each vintage as Goaty Hill wines are expertly matched to each course. Guests will also have the chance to take advantage of exclusive cellar door offers on the day.

For bookings and enquiries phone 6335 5777 or email reservations@countryclubtasmania.com.au

For high resolution images and other media information, visit www.countryclubtasmania.com.au/media

For more information or to arrange an interview, please contact Marketing Coordinator Nicole Mayne on 6335 5879 or email nicole.mayne@countryclubtasmania.com.au.

